Dear Bob,

On behalf of the everyone in attendance at the 2010 XgoPro Summit in Washington D.C., thank you! The 90-minute keynote address you delivered with non-stop energy and inspiration provided the ideal launching pad for our two day conference.

Your program was just the right blend of content and entertainment and you held the attention of the entire group. I heard comment after comment of how practical and relevant your presentation was. The fact that your program goes beyond hype and into reality is just fantastic.

You obviously did your homework about our organization and I appreciate how you customized to address our challenges.

The short of it is that you did a fantastic job. You are a true professional and not only are our people still buzzing about your presentation, but they also have made commitments for the next seven days with consequences for non performance. Instant application of your teachings! Well done. High Content. Applicable to everyone in the audience.

We will be using you again in the very near future.

Best Wishes,

Doug Wead
